Research Experience

2014 – Present: ARS is a small consulting firm specializing in complex research design and analysis to support public policy, programming, and legislative decisions. We are a multi-disciplinary team of criminologists, psychologists, and data scientists. Our goal is to provide evidence-based research findings to our partners and stakeholders while assisting them in strategic decision making. For over twenty-five years, we have helped clients with systems development, effort effectiveness, technical tools, impact measurement and resources allocation. (webpage)
